

CLINICALLY VALIDATED

home blood pressure monitors

Inventor of the digital home blood pressure monitor

Full line of diagnostic and management tools for hypertension from home to clinic

Research, development and manufacturing by A&D Medical

Over 40 years of expertise in precision measurement

Cost effective and innovative product assortment

- Meet range of customer needs
- Low return rates

Clinically Validated

- Performed by independent parties
- Use of standard protocols
- Published in peer review journals

A&D
A&D Medical

At A&D Medical, we are devoted to product excellence so you can confidently stock our devices in your stores. We take customer service seriously, providing care and attention that set us apart from our competitors.

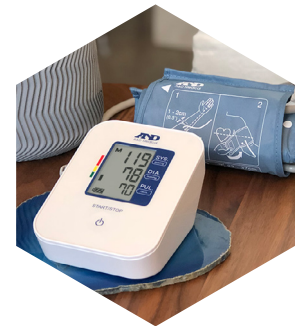

CUSTOMER CASE STUDY

Growing Profitability with High Quality Products

Did you know that A&D invented the first home digital blood pressure monitor?

A&D Medical is known for their high quality blood pressure monitors. We have been experts in this area for almost 40 years refining our technology and algorithms to make our products accurate and easy to use. Not only do we design all of our blood pressure monitors, we also produce them in our own state of the art manufacturing facilities.

What does this mean for one of the largest brick and mortar chains in the country?

More profit! A&D Medical recently partnered with one of the largest brick and mortar chains in the country to provide blood pressure monitors. Customers are happy with easy to use and accurate products. This means a lot less returns, more revenue and more profits. In the past six months at this particular retailer, returns have decreased by 50%.